Railroad Industries
can assist in any of these areas:

Locomotive Engineer Training
Conductor Training
Carmen Training
FRA Paperwork Filings
Roadworker Safety Training
Rail Safety Training
GCOR, Air Brake, Haz-Mat Training

The Rail Safety Improvement Act of 2008 establishes minimum training standards for railroad workers; requires certification of Conductors; and a study on certification of other classes and crafts of employees, including Carman and Signal employees. These new rules affect Engineer certification and require Conductors to be certified for the first time in history.

RII has experienced railroad experts to assist with any training needed, fast and friendly service, by proven professionals in the industry. Our instructors also have relationships with the FRA, RailInc and the STB to help solve problems as they occur.
